THE HAPPY MONKEY

Sara Aristizabal Castañeda -Sarita 4ºB

It was Happy Monday in the jungle and there was a monkey whose name was Tickle.

Tickle likes Happy Monday because that day he has a laugh attack, so when the day started, Tickle started to laugh and laugh and laugh. That day all Tickle's friends became desperate because Tickle laughed about whatever they said or did.

All the animals in the jungle went to their houses, closed everything and put ear plugs on.

But he laughed so much that they couldn't stand it and the animals started to try to make Tickle sleep.

They try singing lullabies, but Tickle continue laughing, they try rocking him, but Tickle continue laughing. They try and try and try but they can't find the way to make him sleep. Then Tomy, an Elephant said, "I know the way to sleep Tickle."

So he went to Tickle and started to tickle him and Tickle started to sleep and finally Tickle fell asleep.

All the animals were happy.

They saw that it was getting dark and they went to sleep, but they saw they couldn't sleep because everyone started to laugh and laugh and laugh and the only one who was sleeping was Happy Monkey.
