THE PIG THAT WANTED TO GO TO THE BEACH

Andrea Fehrmann Rendón - Andre (2ºB)

One day there was a pig that wanted to go to the beach; her name was Manuela. She asked her mom, "can we go to the beach?" Her mom told her, "We can't go because pigs are fat." So Manuela had an Idea. She wanted to build an airplane for pigs and she did.

When she finished, she called her friends to paint the airplane with her. So Manuela went to collect all the decorations for the airplane that she made. Manuela heard a sound that sounded like her friends. She opened the door and there were her friends. Manuela said, "Hello Sofia, hello Isabela! Are you prepared to paint the airplane?" "Yes!" they said. She went upstairs because the airplane was there, and her friends went with her. They started decorating the airplane for pigs. Manuela said, "We can put stickers too!" She went for the stickers while her friends continued decorating.

When Manuela came back, they decorated the airplane with the stickers. So when they finished they started thinking on the name of the airline and they said, "We can name the airplane, Manuela's Airline." So they named it like that. All the pigs started packing their things to go on the trip to the beach. Manuela asked her mom if she wanted to go on the trip to the beach. Her mom said, "I have to finish cleaning the house." "I am going to help you clean the house," Manuela told her mom. When Manuela and her mom finished, her mom packed her things and went into the airplane. Then, they came out and they were at the beach!
